OPEN DISCUSSION:

- Discussion regarding the removal of large amounts of trees in various areas of the Village. Member Jackie Collett contacted the Mayor to express concerns. The Mayor is aware of the tree situation and said they would be replanted. The Mayor also advised that he would go and look at the trees marked to come down on Seaman Ave and make the final determination as to which should come down. Vice President Carter advised that both the Village and Conservancy offer tree planting programs at residents’ expense. The focus needs to be on who decides what trees are to be cut down and how it’s decided as well as holding the Village accountable for replanting the trees. Village Historian Matt Cliszis advised that a 2019 survey was done by an arborist for every tree in the Village. It was confirmed that over 90% of the trees were considered good healthy trees or fair (something minor is wrong with them) and only 6% were considered in poor condition. The survey advised that there needs to be a maintenance plan for the trees, doing routine pruning to keep them healthy, planting trees that are native and known to thrive in our area.
- Jeff Greenfield former Long Island Power Authority (LIPA) Trustee made remarks in favor of the Propel New York Energy project. Long Island has a contract that it gets priority on hydroelectric power from Robert Moses in Buffalo. To maintain pricing, more transmission lines need to be installed to keep electricity flowing in bulk. Currently there are 3 connections to the LIPA grid to get power to Rockville Centre and are on the brink of failing. If lines continue to fail, emergency power will have to be brought in resulting in higher bills. If the new lines go in, Long Island will be able to bring more hydropower down from Niagra to continue to keep our electric bills down. This is a critical project to the electrical infrastructure of Long Island. Confirmed that the new lines will not connect to wind turbines.
- A member whose residence is on Reeve Rd reached out to the Mayor regarding the lack of maintenance being performed on a portion of Reeve Road that is owned by the Village and where 1 of 4 Village water towers sits. Maintenance is performed maybe once a year. There is no grass, it’s overgrown with weeds and people are throwing garbage that is not being picked up. Carol Ruchalski added that there are several strips of land throughout the Village that are not either not maintained or have no landscaping at all. All the areas have become eyesores. Secretary

McEntee advised that the Village is lacking a comprehensive maintenance plan and that they should be held accountable to provide us with the current one. If a current one does not exist, then it needs to be created.

- Discussion regarding a volunteer event that the Civics Association can put on in the month of September to benefit the community. Suggestions included school supplies, backpacks, supporting The Mary Ruchalski Foundation as well as a cleanup around Hempstead Lake Park, the downtown area parking lots or Tanglewood. The group voted between supporting the Mary Ruchalski Foundation, Tanglewood clean-up and a municipal lot clean-up. The majority voted for supporting the Mary Ruchalski Foundation for pediatric cancer.
